A&P (Andreou & Paraskevaides) Enterprises Ltd is a Cyprus-based company engaged in the production, bottling and distribution of beverages. Its product range includes fizzy drinks, juices, tea, squash drinks and bottled water, as well as frozen foods.

They needed a system that could support the complexity and diversity of the operations of the different companies in the group. The system had to be scalable enough to support the Pepsi operations as well as those of the other companies in the group.

Additionally, the company needed better reporting, and to automate their operations without compromises.

SAP® Business One was selected because it is a proven and cost effective solution which has been successful in the local market. The company knew SAP had the right fit for their business but they also wanted the right partner – Supernova Consulting Ltd – a SAP channel partner with business process and industry experience to handle their project.

SAP® Business One is affordable, easy-to-use business management software designed specifically for small and midsize businesses. It enables companies to manage their critical business functions across sales, distribution, and financials, all in a single integrated system. With SAP® Business One, businesses can instantaneously access a complete and up-to-the-minute view of their business, so they can respond to customers faster and grow their business more profitably.

Supernova is the first SAP channel partner that has achieved Gold SAP channel partner status in Cyprus and offers both SAP® Business All-in-One and SAP® Business One solutions. This is the highest level of recognition attainable within the SAP PartnerEdge™ program.
